This is a very useful tutorial from Michael Pavlovich. He gives several quick demonstrations on how to use Marvelous Designer and ZBrush to create clothing to match your own characters. I got many details about modeling techniques especially from the games industry from these videos. Significantly, this tutorial will not explain the basics of software interface and function. You should have the foundation of the relevant software such as ZBrush/Marvelous Designer.

The main website of information for this project is the Marvelous Designer official Site. People can start with basic techniques by using help documentation. The built - in help text explains the use of the program in detail. The web is adapted for beginners and advanced artist.
